Unmatched in Beauty, True Lilies Are Easy

The simple secret of successful and satisfying lily growing is proper planting at the proper time. Any uncrowded location in full sun or partial shade, where the drainage is good or can be made so, is satisfactory.

Complete planting instructions will be sent with the lilies, as with all bulb orders from Better Gardens. As lily bulbs should be set as soon as possible after digging, order now so that you will receive the bulbs when they are ready in early October.

Halt Next Year's Crabgrass Now, With Scott's Economical New Seed-Killer, "HALT"

One easy "spreader-walk" over your lawn now, will assure you of little or no Crabgrass germination next season, with Scott's thoroughly tested and guaranteed new Lawn Research Product, HALT, in the hopper of the Scott's Spreader, loaned free at Better Gardens.

HALT is not a fertilizer, but kills soil pests as effectively as it does the seeds of Crabgrass, and costs only $4.95 for the 1000 sq. ft. size; $9.95 for the 2500 sq. ft. bag.

Tired Lawns Turned Green All Winter At Low Cost

The average front lawn, of Bermuda or Crabgrass, 40 by 50 feet (2000 sq. ft.), can be sown with 25 lbs. of Annual Rye Grass, and covered with a mulch of 8 bags of steer manure for just $11.00 for these materials. Delivery is free, as always at Better Gardens. Dial the store nearest you right now—phone numbers are at the bottom of this card, which you will want to keep.

For best results, first rake up, and mow off, the long runners of Bermuda Grass, which turn brown in the winter months. Or set your power mower low, and scalp the lawn, which is also the best method for Crabgrass lawns. Ask us for names of reliable men who specialize in this scalp-renovation work.
